

303rd BG(H) Combat Mission No. 4

23 November 1942

Target: Submarine Pens, St. Nazaire, France

Crews Dispatched: 12

Crews Lost: Lt. A.E. Reddig - 10 KIA

Crew Members Lost or Wounded: Capt. Fulghum - WIA/POW

Length of Mission: 5 hours, 45 minutes

Bomb Load: 2 x 2000 lb H.E. M34 bombs

Bombing Altitude: 20,000 ft

Ammo Fired: 5,754 rounds

Enemy Aircraft Claims: 2 Destroyed, 1 Probable, 2 Damaged

The briefing was conducted by Lts Whitehead, Johnson and Von Schmidt. Twelve aircraft took off at 0930 and were over the target at 1330. They dropped twenty-three 2,000 lb. H.E. bombs from 20,800 feet. Crews reported hits on sail loft, wet dock, small ship in drydocks, marshalling yards, etc. Cameras failed to function.

Maj George L. Robinson

Thirty or more FW-190s made vicious close attacks in groups of two or three immediately after the bombers left the intense flak over the target. Group gunners destroyed two enemy aircraft with one probable and two damaged.

The Group suffered its first crew loss in #41-24568. Lady Fairweather was on its third mission and was seen to hit the water while still in flames. The aircraft crashed in the Atlantic in the Bay of Biscay near Belle Isle. Four parachutes were believed seen descending at the time of the encounter. The missing crewmen were: 1Lt. A.E. Reddig, Capt. C.G. Miller, 2Lt. J. Ercegovich, 2Lt. J.W. Plummer, T/Sgt. R.W. Van Fleet, T/Sgt. D.B. Nollen, S/Sgt. G.S. Sturgis, S/Sgt. F.A. Mann, Sgt. A.S. Grieb, and Sgt. G.T. Senior. All crewmen are listed on the Wall of Missing in Cambridge Cemetery, England.

The formation was led by Deputy Group Commander Maj. George L. Robinson in #41-24609 Holy Mackerel. The lead navigator on the ship, Capt. Harold Fulghum, bailed out over the target. Holy Mackerel had been hit by flak, causing considerable damage which made the interphone inoperative. Hydraulic fluid flowing into the navigator's compartment led the navigator to assume that it was blood and that his pilot had been killed. He bailed out in a panic situation and was last seen descending near bursting flak. Capt. Fulghum, 358th BS, became a POW. Five other men on four different crews were injured, none critically.
