

303rd BG (H) Combat Mission No. 310

1 February 1945

Target: Railroad bridge at Mannheim, Germany

Crews Dispatched: 39

Length of Mission: 7 hours, 35 minutes

Bomb Load: 10 x 500 lb RDX M43 & 2 x 500 lb M17 Incendiaries

Bombing Altitudes; 26,000, 25,000 & 26,500 ft

Ammo Fired: 1,050 rounds

Mannheim was targeted—the fifth time since October, 1944. Its marshalling yard was the visual or GEE-H target and its railroad bridge was the secondary PFF target. One aircraft returned early with engine problems, #44-6516 My Darling, 360BS (F/O Demian).

The Group was at last up to full strength. For the first time since 10 January, 39 aircraft were dispatched. Thirty-seven Forts dropped 358 500-lb. RDX M43, 71 500-lb. incendiary M17 bombs, and 10 leaflet units from 26,000, 25,000 and 26,500 feet on the secondary railroad bridge target. Although results could not be observed, PFF operators reported good results. The sky-markers on all three Squadrons were very close together. One B-17 jettisoned its bombs shortly after leaving the target.

*Rainbow Corner Red Cross Club in London - 1945
23 Shaftesbury Avenue, W.I., London*

In the target area there were 10/10 low clouds with tops at 8,000 feet, 7/10 middle clouds with tops at 15,000 feet, 5/10 high clouds with tops at 24,000 feet and moderate, non-persistent contrails.

There was no enemy air opposition and good support by 142 1st AD P-51s. Flak, encountered only at the target, was meager to moderate and generally inaccurate with a few accurate outbursts. Two aircraft sustained major battle damage and two minor damage. There were no casualties and all aircraft returned safely to Molesworth.

Aircraft #43-38927, a camera ship from the 544BS/384BG at Grafton Underwood, made a crash landing at Molesworth. The pilot landed long on the runway with three engines out and feathered and with the right landing gear only partially extended. The No. 4 engine quit on the final approach. The aircraft came to rest about 200 yards beyond the end of runway 20 after ground looping. The aircraft was badly damaged, but crewmen were unhurt.
